Sub : Appeal for accepting Instrument Mechanic (Chemical Plant) as eligible qualification for the post of JAT (Rigman).

Respected Sir,

This is in reference to my discussion with your esteemed authority during your last visit in Mumbai for the above issue.

We remain immensely grateful to your esteemed authority for extending age relaxation to Radio operators, Boiler operators, JAT (Cementing), also agreeing to convert the post of stenographers to AG(HR) and AT (Boiler) to JAT (Boiler), this has accommodated many departmental candidates who were working as field operators and or Direct Employees for more than a decade, this will go a long way in the present perception of running the organization as " Joint Venture" and mutual respect.

Mr. Leeladhar Koli who is working as Field Operator with us in Drilling since the year 2000 has been refused for interview as instead of carrying a trade certificate of Instrument Mechanic is having a trade certificate as Instrument Mechanic (Chemical Plant), Sir, you had very rightly pointed out that Instrumentation qualification has no relevance with Rigmans work, all what we request is, when various divergent trades are acceptable for the post of Rigman kindly accept similar qualification in instrumentation termed differently.

When giving the above reason we are disqualifying Mr. L Koli from regularization for the post of JAT (Rigman), as an existing field operator he will continue to be found fit to do the job of a Rigman, which he has been doing for the past 13 years. It not only amounts to self contradiction but also gross injustice to the individual.

We understand that your authority has opined to have a view of R&P (HQ), Sir we do not dispute with your decision, but with directives of relaxation things will work out fast, and Mr. Leeladhar Koli can also be interviewed by the board which will be here for interviewing others for those you have already given consent for age relaxation, he has already crossed successfully the biggest hurdle i.e. the written test, and we need not tell you the scant possibilities of vacancies of Rigman being rolled out in the near future.

I once again request your esteemed authority to consider the case of Mr. Koli for further process of regularization for the post of JAT (Rigman).

Thanking you
Yours faithfully

(Pradeep Mayekar)
General Secretary
