Subject : Regionally biased recruitment in Assam, changing strategy like chameleon.

Respected Sir,

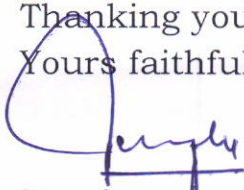

It has been increasingly observed that the recruitment in Assam is highly regionalized repetition for three consecutive years, very scant or no departmental candidate are selected in Assam, from other region which is highly provocative and unhealthy to the organization having no hurdles from the management is only luring us to resort to anti Assam movement in ONGC, and you will be singularly responsible for repercussions, and why we should not politics the same.

Repetition of the same, even after bringing it to the notice of the board nothing has changed, we will not be wrong if we attribute this as, "the local management is hand in gloves with the collectives in Assam and management in Head quarter and our corporate is taking solace or protection by remaining a silent spectator".

In the first two years they took to violence, candidates from Agartala were locked in a room, seizing their cell-phones and applicants from Mumbai were beaten up last year everyone was allowed to give written test and three candidates from Mumbai were passed but they forcefully send back to join in Mumbai. And in 2014, five departmental candidates had passed the written test, but not a single candidate beyond the boundaries of Assam has been selected, though there were sufficient sanctioned posts. A unique change of strategy.

We are branded as militant and we have no regrets for such an identity, we take great pride in same. This year we will exhibit our militancy in epic proportion by not allowing any outside candidates be it departmental or outsider specifically from Assam.

Thanking you,
Yours faithfully,

(Pradeep Mayekar)
General Secretary
