

 ICSE 10th
2016

I believe if a pebble is thrown upward
I can pierce the sky
I believe if I dive right into the depth
I can swim with the sharks

This is what I have always believed in. If we try and work hard for achieving something, we would surely cross all the hurdles and achieve it. The same way, with the dream of achieving something great, I started off as a little girl from Dombivali (Thane). While in Dombivali, I went to Abhinav Vidyalay ICSE School. I completed my pre-primary and primary education there. That school had prepared my base for achieving something great. Even in my primary education, I always topped the class. But yes, I was not 'book worm'. I used to play at least one hour daily.

I had joined 'Rhythm Riders Academy' and had learned and enjoyed dancing under guidance of Mr. Tejas Thakkar. I had come out to be an excellent dancer. And With this came an opportunity to dance with and meet many celebrities like Shah Rukh Khan, Anushaka Sharma, Navjyot Singh Siddhu, Mandira Bedi, Shaan, Aadesh Shrivastav, Ganesh Acharya, Vaibhavi Marchant, Karishma Tanna etc. At the dance sets, I had got 'Star' treatment and really enjoyed it. It was marvelous experience.

Years went by and I completed my primary education at Abhivanv Vidyalaya. My parents had recognised spark in me, for my better education they shifted to Bhandup (Mumbai). I got admission in 'Pawar Public School' on merit. I joined this school in 6th standard. This school was a launchpad for my future. It had polished my overall personality and now I feel that this school was much needed for me and today whatever I am is just because of this school. Initially, I had come to know that the top three students of each standard received the glass trophy which my friend had received. I fell in love with it. It was like 'love at 1st site'. Now I had decided that by any chance, I should receive it. I worked hard for it and finally in 9th standard I came in top 3 students and received it.

Now came in the great '10th Standard'. Because I had come in top3 in 9th, everyone's expectation had raised up. I had studied for long hours. But again I maintained balance between studies and other things. After coming from school at 3:00PM, I used to sleep for half an hour and had my lunch till 4:00PM. I used to start studying at 4:00PM and stop at 8:30PM. At this time, I always had my dinner while watching 'Tarak mehtra ka oolta chashamh'. Again I used to start at 9:00PM and go on till 11:30PM. This used to be my routine school day in Grade 10. During the study leave in the month of February I used to get up at 8:00AM (I was not an early riser) and after breakfast, I used to start studying at 9:00AM and go on till 1:30PM when I had my lunch at from 2:00PM till 8:30PM again I used to study and then after dinner, I used to sit till 1:00AM or 1:30AM. But in my ½ and hour break, TV was really important for me and I could not have continued studying without TV. February was an extensive month. But I wanted to do it for myself, my parents, my teachers and my school.

My teachers were really very hardworking. I remember a day when I had sat with my geography teacher in the school till 7:00PM because I had a doubt. My teachers were just a phone call away to ask a doubt even on the eve of the exams. This inspired me to do something great. During my primary & secondary studies my mother gave an all efforts and her brilliant support & utilizing her B.Sc. studies experience to teach me throughout the complete academic education. My mother also takes care of my health too & My Daddy always supportive in everything, specially he taught me basic computer & commercial studies throughout the year. And finally, my hard work bore fruits and I scored 98% in ICSE boards. And this year again I will receive the glass trophy and this time even my parents will be awarded by the principal. So if you 'Dare to Dream' you will surely achieve it someday.

Thank you all.
