Subject: Urgent Intervention Regarding Shortage, Delayed Supply & Near-Expiry Medicines At BPB Platform Dispensary.

Respected Sir,

This has reference to the serious concerns raised by employees at the BPB offshore platform regarding inadequate availability of essential & life-saving medicines, delays in replenishment & receipt of medicines with limited remaining shelf life. We are in receipt of a letter from our Offshore crew, is enclosed for urgent consideration by esteemed authority.

An offshore installation operates under conditions where access to hospitals & emergency evacuation may be constrained by distance, weather & operational circumstances. Consequently, a properly equipped dispensary & uninterrupted availability of prescribed emergency medicines are indispensable safeguards for employees. The reported deficiencies must therefore be treated as an occupational health & safety priority, rather than a routine stores or logistics matter.

The complaint specifically highlights shortages of quick-relief medicines such as Betadine gargle & throat sprays, delayed dispatches, & a mismatch between medicines & medical consumables supplied. The accompanying stock & indent records also identify zero stock or additional requirements for several emergency & routine items, including certain injectable medicines & intravenous fluids. The staff have further reported instances of throat pain & fever, warranting appropriate medical assessment without presuming the cause.

We urges the Management to take the following corrective measures on a priority basis:

- Immediate stock verification & replenishment: Arrange a joint review by the Medical, Pharmacy, Logistics & BPB offshore teams of actual stock, pending indents, consumption & critical shortages. Dispatch urgently required medicines & equipment by the earliest feasible offshore transport, with emergency arrangements wherever medically necessary.

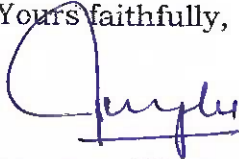

Contd.....2

- Shelf-life & quality assurance: Examine all reported near-expiry supplies & introduce an appropriate minimum remaining shelf-life requirement, preferably 6-12 months wherever feasible, subject to clinical needs & manufacturer availability. Verify batch numbers, expiry dates, quantities & storage conditions before offshore dispatch.
- Reliable indent & inventory controls: Introduce minimum & buffer stock levels, timely reorder alerts, digital monitoring of expiry dates & a defined escalation process for unfulfilled medical indents. Ensure that supplies reflect the platform's actual clinical requirements rather than an excessive proportion of consumables.
- Emergency preparedness: Review availability & serviceability of emergency equipment, including the requested nebulizer & digital BP apparatus, & reassess medical evacuation & emergency response arrangements until stock levels are normalized.
- Accountability & follow-up: Identify the reasons for dispatch delays & short supplies, assign responsible officers & establish a time-bound corrective action plan in consultation with the offshore medical officer & platform representatives.

We request Management to confirm immediate interim arrangements including replenishment timelines & preventive measures.

The health & safety of offshore employees must remain paramount. We expect prompt & effective intervention so that no employee is exposed to avoidable medical risk due to deficiencies in dispensary supplies.

Thanking you,
Yours faithfully,

(Pradeep Myekar)
General Secretary

Subject: Regarding Critical Shortages and Near-Expiry Medications at the BPB Offshore Platform Dispensary

Respected Sir,

We would like to bring to your urgent attention a serious concern affecting the health and welfare of employees working on the BPB offshore platform. As you are aware, working on an offshore platform carries inherent operational risks, making a fully stocked and reliable medical dispensary our primary lifeline in emergencies and daily healthcare management.

Recently, we have observed a critical breakdown in our medical supply chain. The medications were received on the platform with a significant delay and some were receiving near-expiry date. The platform's medicine dispensary is currently facing a severe shortage of essential (quick relief medicines like Betadin gargle, Lary Spray etc.) and life-saving medications. Operating in an isolated offshore environment with limited evacuation capabilities means that any delay or failure in medical treatment can escalate into a life-threatening situation. Nowadays, many people are suffering from throat pain and fever due to filtered seawater. In this scenario, receiving near-expiry medicines stock and delay in shipment of medicines (only with 2-3months) not only shortchanges our medical readiness but also indicates a profound failure in management's procurement and quality control protocols.

We kindly request the Union to step in immediately and direct organization management to resolve this issue without delay. To ensure a long-term solution and protect the health and safety of all BPB offshore personnel, we propose that management immediately implement the following effective measures:

- Urgent Restocking and Auditing: Conduct an immediate, comprehensive audit of the current dispensary inventory and hot-ship a complete replenishment of all out-of-stock essential medicines via the next available transport log. Additionally, it was highlighted in the received shipment that there is a larger quantity of medical consumables than medicines.
- Minimum Shelf-Life Policy: Establish a strict procurement standard dictating that no medication with less than 6 to 12 months of remaining shelf life is to be dispatched to offshore platforms.
- Digital Inventory Management: Implement a real-time, automated inventory tracking system that flags low stock levels and alerts onshore procurement well before essential medicines run out or expire.
- Stringent Onshore Quality Control: Enforce a rigorous pre-shipment inspection at the onshore supply base to ensure all medical batches are verified for quantity, quality, and expiration margins before being loaded for offshore transit.
- Emergency Medical Evacuation (MEDEVAC) Review: Temporarily review and reinforce emergency evacuation protocols to guarantee swift transport in the event a medical emergency arises while the dispensary inventory is being corrected.

Here, we are attaching near expiry date medicine received note(page3-4), Indent of medicines (sent by onboard doctor to base team(Pg 9-12)) and copy of Medicines issued note from base pharmacy team(Pg 5-8). BPB staff relies on the strength and leadership of Karmachari Sanghatana to ensure that our fundamental right to a safe working environment is not compromised.

We request you to kindly take up this matter with the management on priority and ensure that corrective measures are implemented at the earliest.

Yours Faithfully,
Rupesh Dalvi
Offshore Secretary,
Karmachari Sanghatana BPB Platform.
